LETTER FROM BOISE CITY.

BOISE CITY, I. T., July 20, 1867.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

Politics are raging here now. The election for county officers takes place on the 2d Monday in August. The mighty Legislature of last winter passed an Act giving the present incumbents in this county a lease on their respective offices for two years longer. In their eagerness to reward party favorites they went far beyond the line of common sense, and passed an act which no one has the audacity, now, to say has any force what ever. The County Commissioners, without a word of dissent, agreed to disregard its provisions entirely, and call an election for all county offices.

The Democratic Convention met on Saturday, and made the following nominations: Councilman, S. L. King; Assemblymen, John L. Kline, J. D. Callaway, and —— Martin; Sheriff, L. B. Lindsey; County Clerk, I. N. Smith; Auditor and Recorder, A. W. Flournoy; Treasurer, W. W. Gliddon; County Commissioner, W. Whitson; Assessor, T. D. Cahalin; Public Administrator, A. Head; School Superintendent, Ed. Raynor.

The Democracy here is of the out-and-out riproaring Jeff Davis kind. During the Convention, words were used by candidates for nomination, which would disgrace a bar-room—if such a thing be possible. One pretty good joke occurred. A very handsome youth who was nominated for the Assembly, in placing himself before the Convention, said that "Democratic principles were the essence of virtue and temperance!!" The Convention couldn't see it in that light, and the sentiment, beautiful as it was, was choked only by its own echo. I always thought there was more of the essence of old Rye about Democratic principles, than of virtue and temperance, and from the actions of that Convention, I was more than ever strongly convinced that I am right.

The Union men held their Convention to-day, and put this ticket in the field. Sheriff, R. O. Robbins; County Commissioner, J. B. Walling; Auditor and Recorder, H. M. Ellsworth; County Clerk, D. Crum; Treasurer, B. F. Lamkin; Probate Judge, W. P. Thompson; Assessor, G. J. Gray; School Superintendent and Coroner, G. W. Quivey; Public Administrator, J. M. Stephenson. This ticket is composed of men of sterling integrity, sound judgment, and whose interests are all with the county.

Crops in Boise valley look very well. There will be very nearly grain enough raised here to supply the home demand—thus saving to our citizens an immense sum of money that has hitherto gone out of the valley for the staff of life.

Boise City is improving very much considering the general stagnation of business which prevails everywhere.

The Good Templars here are doing a very good work. There are two Lodges in town, having a membership of about 150. A. J. Boyakin, formerly a compositor in the OREGONIAN, is Worthy Chief Templar of one of the Lodges. ANON.

The Atlanta (Georgia) New Era, of the 21st, says:

We place at the head of our columns to-day the name of General Ulysses S. Grant as the people's candidate for the Presidency in 1868. While this illustrious hero does not seek, and is too modest to aspire to this highest honor within the gift of the Nation, as well as the proudest distinction which can be conferred in the world, the people have determined to bestow upon him. In him they found the great leader under whom the Union was saved; in him they see the only man who can say to the troubled waters, "Peace be still," and under whose triumphant banner the Union can be promptly restored and perpetuated. The great heart of the people pulsates for peace, and harmony, and unity, that the Nation may be progressive, great, and powerful, and seeking one whose mind comprehends their mighty future, whose big heart throbs in unison with theirs—one who knows no North, no South, no East, no West—whose devotion to the Union in the past gives assurance of his fidelity to it in the future—the people everywhere look to the great and victorious leader of the Union hosts as the only man who can lead the Nation from its present gloomy political night into a brighter and more effulgent day. So mighty is the tide now setting in that it seems the will of Deity itself. So accepting it, we place the name of Ulysses S. Grant at the head of the columns of the Era as the people's choice for President.

Jorrold's joke about the old port and the elder port will be unpleasantly recalled to crusty drinkers by the following paragraph on the manufacture of Portuguese wine, from a note by our Secretary of Legation at London:

All port wine hitherto exported for the English market is largely mixed with brandy, and is composed almost as much of elderberries as of grapes. The way in which what in England is called port wine has hitherto been manufactured for the London market is this: The Palz de Venhaseiro abounds in elder trees; the berries of these trees are dried in the sun or in kilns. The wine is then thrown on them, and the berries are trodden (as previously the grapes) till it is perfectly saturated with the coloring matter of the berries. Brandy is then added in the proportion of from three to sixteen gallons to every pipe of 115 gallons. This is the composition of all the port wine hitherto drank in England. The pure wine, no wine not thus specially adulterated for the English taste, was allowed by the Government Committee of Tasters to pass the bar of the Douro before the year 1865.

THE PEACE OF EUROPE NOT PERMANENT.—The London Times argues that the expectations of a permanent peace are delusive, "and that the real danger that threatens all now as before the Luxemburg difficulty, remains as unexorcised and unprovided against." The Times utters this sentiment:

So long as the policy of Europe shall be virtually in the hands of sovereigns, instead of the people; so long as the nations are content to be led like sheep, whither their rulers please, either to pasture or to the slaughter; so long as false ideas of honor or romantic aspirations or nationality are enough to set the minds of the soberest population in a blaze, so long as the study and practice of the arts of destruction are more honored than the cultivation of the arts of peace, we have no solid guarantee that a new Luxemburg may not be found in some other petty fortress, and a new cause for national susceptibility in some other half-forgotten treaty and half-known State.

"The Beginning of the End" is the way that the Richmond Enquirer announces the beginning of the work of registration in Virginia; not the end of the world, nor even of the great State of Virginia, but simply of the omnipotent power of the O. F. M. of Virginia in controlling the politics of the State. The Enquirer says:

Our people are alarmed, and they do well to be alarmed, when they see what formidable combinations the worst and least capable elements of the community are making to seize the powers of government and prey upon the property and prosperity of the Commonwealth. * * * * * With all our efforts at counteraction, the agitators in our midst, and the political emissaries from the outside, have organized the blacks against the whites, with an approach to unanimity. This is especially true in the cities and towns; and the malign influence is extending to the country.

THE INDIANS IN UTAH.—The Salt Lake Vedette of July 23d says:

The red devils, as the battle-ax of the Lord is irreverently styled by the ungodly, made a call on Scroeder's mule train at Lucledo, on Sunday morning. They captured about ninety animals, and rode off with them, much delighted and satisfied. They wanted the border's scalp, but the fellow swindled them by outdistancing to camp.

GRASS IN THE STREETS.—The Charleston Mercury, the same that predicted that grass would grow in Broadway when Charleston withdrew its trade from New York, calls attention to the carelessness of the boy who attends the cows grazing in the burnt districts, and who permits the animals to wander in the streets, where they are sometimes taken up and put into the pound.

OWYHEE MINING ITEMS.

From the Avalanche of the 27th July, we have the following:

There are now in constant operation the Owyhee, Cosmos and Morning Star Mills, and the Webfoot most of the time. The Owyhee will have its addition of six pans completed by the middle of next month, which will give constant employment to the mill's twenty stamps, which added to the others mentioned, will make over forty stamps nearly certain to be in continual action, besides as many more of which there is reasonable hope to believe will be supplied with ore and be stamping out bullion and making business before the year closes.

There have been some notable transactions in mining stocks and feet here this week. W. B. Crane has purchased one hundred and eighty shares of Morning Star & Oro Fino stock from Ben Bernstein and both parties are pleased with the transaction—it being an exchange of real estate in silver for an interest in the company aforesaid. The Oro Fino mine has lately been yielding ore of a high grade, and the clean-up this week was better than any previous one this year.

The Pauper ledge, recently struck, is creating some sensation in mining circles. A conditional sale of seven hundred and fifty feet has been made for $12,000. The purchasers have paid $1,000 cash, and after the expiration of a stated period are to pay the balance or forfeit that already paid. A force of men were put to work on Wednesday last to prove it up by actual development. The purchasers are all men of capital and intend business.

David S Meeks and partner have sold their interest in the Baxter for a substantial sum in cash, and the buyers are to complete the contract of sinking the balance of 100 feet. We learn that Mr. John C. Cattelow and C. C. Johnson are the purchasers, and they know what they are buying and intend to proceed with work more vigorously than otherwise could have been done.

In Flint, the prospects are surely brightening. Mr. Charles Liebenau has just made a very successful run of Leviathan ore in Block's Mill. Of course the loss in working was considerable more than it should have been, but a point has been established in that it is proven that the ore can be worked with the machinery at hand at a large profit. Mr. Liebenau intends to start up the mine again and take out ore right along. This is sufficient of itself to show his entire confidence in the Leviathan, for something over one hundred tons is now on the yard—from which he has made his trials. The mine is bonded to San Francisco men—representatives of whom will be in camp about the time this article is before our readers.

MR. A. T. STEWART'S NEW STORE.—The New York Evening Post describes the new up town store which Mr. Stewart is preparing for his new retail business, and which every woman in the land, of course, will be interested in. It will cover nearly the entire block bounded by Broadway, Fourth avenue, Ninth and Tenth streets. The frontage on Broadway will be one hundred and ninety feet; on Fourth avenue, two hundred feet; on Ninth street two hundred and sixty feet, and on Tenth street, three hundred. The interior will be divided into nearly three equal parts. The central part will consist of a large rotunda reaching to the roof for the purpose of lighting the whole interior. On either side of this will be grand stairways. The rotunda will be fifty eighty feet. The basement will be used as a [illegible] salesroom for carpets, and the first floor will be provided with stalls so arranged that silks may be displayed by gas light in the day time. The large stories of the building will be appropriated to the manufacturing purposes required in retail department. A large elevator will be placed in the building for persons to ascend from the various store-rooms. The whole building will cover over an acre and a half ground, and be made of iron.

MINIATURE VOLCANO.—Among the numerous experiments which may be made with Perkins' steam engine, there is a remarkable one recommended by M. Chautard, professor of natural philosophy at Nancy. A quantity of flour of sulphur mixed with a small proportion of iron filings, or better still, with iron reduced to hydrate, in which case it is in quite an impalpable state, and copper filings may also be added in small quantities. The mixture, which must be made complete as possible, is then thrown on a piece of glass or on a dry brick so as to form a heap two or three centimetres high, and much longer than it is broad. It the ends of the wires of [illegible] Perkins' machine be now inserted into the heap so as to be two or three centimetres' distant from each other, and the current made to pass through, a violent explosion of the mass takes place, a column of crater is formed, whence magnificent [illegible] of fire will be seen to issue, much resembling the bouquet of fireworks, and like it, displaying different colors. It is in reality a miniature volcano, with subterranean noises, and ejection of boiling lava.

A FACT FOR THE NATURALISTS.—Naturalists are, in some respects, like other people. For instance, they admire novelties. So did the Athenians. So do the San Franciscans. Here is a novelty such as Athens could not produce, and San Francisco not often. Yesterday, at the New Corner Saloon, on the corner of Montgomery, Market and Post, a large of block of ice was broken, and imbedded in its center appeared a common earth worm, some four inches in length. Had the worm been a frozen corpse the novelty would have been small. But he wasn't. He was alive, and wiggling, and so soon as the superincumbent pressure of the translucent frigidity was removed, he raised himself up and looked around. The ice came from Sitka—the worm in the ice, of course. Now of what material was the worm made that he should be enabled under such chilling influence to have preserved his ordinary vermicular suppleness and slippery animation? We pause for a reply, which we look for from the California Academy of Natural Sciences, at their earliest convenience.—S. F. Times.

It is well known that Mr John Randolph freed his slaves and furnished them means to locate on lands in Ohio. They numbered about twelve hundred men, women and children, and received about eighty acres of land to a family besides the money bestowed. Their location was in Mercer, one of the counties in Judge Palmer's district. The Judge says there never was one of them before him for any violation of the law; they were an orderly, law-abiding people, industrious and thrifty.

One of the women once came into court as a witness. She was a widow, and two men who were employed on her lands had quarreled, and one of them was killed. The testimony in the case, by its sun for and evident conscientiousness, made a profound impression on those who heard it. The principles and habits in which Mr. Randolph trained them, evidently followed them. The county is strongly Democratic, and yet these colored people command general respect by their excellent conduct and character. Their kindly and courteous manners were especially noticed by strangers passing through the country.

STATISTICS OF JUDAISM.—The Hebrew National, a new weekly journal published in London, gives some interesting statistics of the Jewish race. It says that there are now living about 6,000,000 Israelites, about half of whom live in Europe. There are 1,300,000 in Russia; in Austria, 600,000; in Prussia, 254,000; and in all other parts of

The Daily Oregonian.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 7, 1867.

An Accomplished Fact.

A citizen of Tennessee who for some time has been notorious rather than distinguished in our politics, used to remark frequently that the power of the old class of Southern politicians was destined to be broken and utterly destroyed. And though this citizen has since gone back from his word and used every exertion to prevent the result which he was once so anxious to witness, his prophecy is being rapidly verified. The leaders whom he wanted to "put down" are meeting their fate. Impartial suffrage at the South is doing the work. It is effectually "breaking the power" of the old politicians and ex-rebel leaders who do not fall in with the new order of things. The victory in Tennessee is the beginning of the end. The result which Andrew Johnson so often invoked is about to be achieved, not by violence, but by peaceful ballots. And under the operation of so powerful an agency, the work will be thoroughly done.

We observe that some of the Democratic papers of this State denounce Senator Williams for declaring in his recent speeches that impartial suffrage is an accomplished fact. Nothing could be more foolish than these denunciations. It would be well if the Democratic party were wise enough to recognize facts as they occur, instead of vainly opposing and foolishly endeavoring to reverse them. It is not more certain that slavery is abolished than that colored citizens will hereafter vote in the South; nor is anything more inevitable than that a large majority of the Northern States, and perhaps all of them, will soon abolish the distinctions as to suffrage which grew up in pro-slavery Democratic times. In several of the Northern States the question will be submitted to the people this fall, and there cannot be a doubt of the result. Five of the New England States stand on the basis of equal political rights; Tennessee has enfranchised her colored citizens; Ohio, Michigan, Iowa, Kansas and perhaps some other States, have taken steps toward the immediate abolishment of political distinctions between whites and blacks; New York allows negroes to vote under certain conditions, and all the ten ex-States the right of suffrage is undeniably theirs. Men may say what they please against the means by which the right was secured; but the fact remains that the negroes have the right and that they never can be deprived of it. Some have questioned and some still question the legality of the abolition of slavery, and possibly there are some who imagine that slavery may yet be restored; but all this does not impair the fact that slavery has been swept away, never again to have an existence within the jurisdiction of the United States. When President Lincoln issued his proclamation of freedom, there were men who said it was unconstitutional, but all the arguments that were brought to bear on this point did not affect the result. So men now may declaim against the enactment of impartial suffrage in the late rebel States but negroes are voting there and the right of suffrage can never be after be denied them. These are facts, and it is idle to call them in question. Wise men do not contend against the inevitable but some Democrats, and particularly some Oregon Democrats, do not appear, when considering this subject, to be very wise men.

Senator Williams' Appointments.

Senator Williams has already made a tour through a considerable portion of the State, addressing the people on topics relating to reconstruction. He proposes to visit several other points in the Willamette valley with the same object in view, and then extend his tour to the principal places in the Eastern part of the State. The following are his remaining appointments so far as it is now deemed necessary to publish them:

Oregon City	.....	August 16
Aurora	.....	" 17
Lafayette	.....	" 20
Sheridan	.....	" 21
Hillsboro	.....	" 23

Mr. Long will begin at one o'clock P. M. each day.

From a part of the State which the Senator has visited we hear his efforts spoken of with great interest, and no one should let the opportunity pass of hearing him, as one of the principal authors of the system of reconstruction now in operation, speak on these important subjects. We are glad to learn that he will address the people of Portland after his tour through the State shall have been finished.

THE DAILY MAIL.—Our telegraphic dispatches inform us that the mail contract for the route from Lewiston (Cal.) to Portland, (Oregon) is awarded to Jesse D. Carr. We understand that this contractor is the same man who engaged to carry the mail from Starr City to Boise and afterwards transferred his contract to Hill Beachy. Judging from the sum paid him, by the Department, we suppose that the contract requires the service to be continued as now performed. We have no doubt that it will be to his interest in the way of travel to continue the four-horse coaches.

Accounts from the South represent that the cotton crop promises to be the largest known for ten years which carries the comparison back to ante-secession times, when we of the North thought the judgment-day more likely to come than rebellion. We sincerely hope the promise will be kept, for we desire to see the South prosperous, and a great cotton crop would do much toward effecting the return of prosperity.

Nebraska's new capital is named Lincoln. One departed President had a good name in every sense—one that will bear being applied to places of all kinds. Some of our Presidents had appellations that do not bear repetition. Who would call a town Polk! Buchanan, though a nice name in itself, will not be much drawn upon by sponsors of States, counties, cities and towns, and so forth.

The Democrats in the Constitutional Convention lately held in Michigan, assented to negro suffrage in that State. It is not likely that the proposition will meet with any serious opposition before the people.

The article in our issue of yesterday, giving some of the particulars of the trip of the Oregon party through Ireland and Scotland, should have been credited to the Salem Record.

An Imported One.

The Idaho Statesman has the following in relation to one of the Idaho Democrats who voted in Oregon in the last election:

"It isn't often that we interfere in Democratic family matters, but aside from any political feeling or preference we feel like ventilating a little incident that occurred in the Democratic county convention last Saturday. Nominations for Probate Judge were in order, when the name of a well known citizen of Boise City was mentioned. This was no sooner done than a sanctimonious looking delegate from one of the lower precincts jumped up and objected to the candidate on account of his bad personal character. The assertion is itself most false unless voting the Democratic ticket and sometimes drinking bad whisky, constitute a bad character. If those be the charges against him, the gentleman will not attempt to deny or palliate them; but it is the first time that such qualities were ever heard to be an objection to a Democratic candidate. The funny side of the matter, however, is that the sanctimonious and palegate aforesaid, having been a citizen of Ada and it was for the last three years, happened to be at her love, and on business a year ago last June, when self of her, and election was transpiring, walked up to er at once, had [illegible] ballot and started the openly took [illegible] very soon, for his home in Idaho! much so, that those [illegible] ment is necessary. We take in all ranks, looking after [illegible] and are began to hold him up as [illegible] that sort of [illegible] name and our authority for hon nec[illegible]ary.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—The nomination for Governor to fill the place made vacant by the declination of Gen. Bidwell on the Republican State ticket, has been tendered to Caleb T. Fay and by him accepted.

Yesterday afternoon a suit was commenced in the District Court by the county of Santa Clara against Peter Donohue, C. B. Polhemus and H. M. Newhall, to recover the sum of $211,746. Plaintiff alleges that it was permitted by an Act of the Legislature to subscribe for 2,000 shares stock in the San Francisco and San Jose Railroad Company; that it sold a portion of the stock to Defendants, who agreed to redeem $200,000 of its bonds and pay the interest thereon, the county retaining a lien upon it for security, and that the defendants have wholly failed to fulfill the contract. Plaintiff therefore claims judgment of foreclosure of the lien for the sale of the stock and whatever balance of the debt the stock may not pay.

Two men were sent to Stockton last evening for confinement in the Insane Asylum. Their names are Antoine Frank, a native of Malta and Francis Bostwick, a native of New York.

The Republican State Central Committee has filled the vacancies in the revised ticket as follows: For Governor, Caleb T. Fay; Secretary of State, Benj. R. Nickerson; Clerk of the Supreme Court, E. G. White. The latter had previously been nominated by the Union Central Committee. It was reported that Jones, of El Dorado county, had declined the nomination for Controller, but the Republican Committee has no such information, and therefore leaves his name still standing.

The ship Asiatic, with a cargo of spars for France, and the surveying steamer Beaver, for the Northwest coast, sailed this morning.

FROM IDAHO.

The following items are from Idaho City and Boise papers to the 1st inst:

Page, of bogus notoriety, has been tried and found guilty of passing bogus dust. The verdict was returned last Saturday, and sentence was to be pronounced yesterday. The world does move a little at last. One bogus operator is at last caged. We hope to hear of his accessories sharing the same fate, and that the district attorneys will keep up a vigorous campaign until the gang is all cleaned.

A German, named Luke Maohales, who resides on Buena Vista Bar, was severely injured on Sunday evening, in Idaho City, by the breaking away of the strip of sidewalk over a stretch of excavated mining ground on the west side of Main street, above Harris street, upon which the unfortunate man was walking. He fell among the mass of rocks thrown out from sluice boxes, and sustained a very serious and painful compound fracture of the ankle.

The first immigrant train of the season arrived yesterday. The train consisted of eleven wagons from Iowa, Illinois and Missouri. Mr. A. G. Cook and family were of the number.

A miner named Christian Dehring was killed on Tuesday by the caving of a bank in his claim near the mouth of Thorn creek.

A. H. Bacon, second lieutenant in the 23d infantry, attempted to commit suicide a few days ago at Camp C. F. Smith. He tried to shoot himself in the head, but the ball glanced off his skull without doing serious injury.

The Lewiston Journal seconds the proposition to have Northern Idaho annexed to Washington Territory.

Some new rich quartz ledges have been discovered in the vicinity of Florence which are attracting a good deal of attention.

WOMEN AS VOTERS.—In an article on "Old Times in Detroit," the Free Press has the following:

By the act to incorporate the town of Detroit, passed in the Legislature of the Northwestern Territory, on January 18, 1802, all "inhabitants of said town of Detroit who are freeholders, or householders paying an annual rent of $40," were voters. This act was in force for many years. On the 28th day of April, 1804, on the question whether "the pickets and gates be repaired, or suffered to fall into decay," twenty-five free holders voted, among them four women, two of whom voted by proxy. They were widow Dalahan, widow Conte, widow Provencal and "the late Mrs. Welsh, who voted by Wm. Scott, Esq." This seems to indicate the extension of suffrage beyond any of the propositions before the Convention, and is worthy the attention of the reformers. Proxies from the other world would constitute a curious element in a political campaign.

STATE ITEMS.

A Salem paper says there is a scarcity of harvest hands in Marion county.

The Mountaineer is energetically urging the building of the Branch Mint at the Dalles.

The Albany Democrat says the hay and grain crops in that section of Oregon will not generally be so large as usual. The hay crop particularly is deficient, but as most farmers have considerable of old hay on hand, it is believed that there will be an abundance to supply the present and future demands.

The Unionist learns that the residence of Robert Allen, about four miles south of Salem, was burned on Sunday afternoon. The family was at home when the fire was first discovered, but were unable to check it, and had barely time to remove the household goods before the building was completely wrapt in flames. The fire caught from a defective stove flue.

The Salt Journal of the 3d inst. gives the particulars of rather an interesting case which came off before Justice Campbell at Fugate City on last Friday. It appears that one Dr. Alexander and his wife of that place attempted to extort money from Dr. Renfrew, also of Eugene, by the lady inviting the unsuspecting "Joseph" into her bedroom and arranging for her husband to capture him while there. The husband and wife then proceeded to compel Renfrew to sign a note for two thousand dollars payable the next day at 11 o'clock. Instead of honoring the note Renfrew entered complaint and had the pair arrested. Alexander was bound over under bonds of $750, and it appearing that his wife acted from fear of him she was discharged.

When Sheridan was going to the court one morning, carrying his usual green bag full of books and papers, some of his professional associates sat on the urchin s th street's to ask him if he was peddling old clothes. "No," he replied, "those are all new suits."

PERFECTLY ENRAPTURING.—Such were our feelings as we stepped into the Music and Art Gallery of W. T. SHANAHAN, on First street, a few days since, and listened to the delightful tones and harmony which came from one of Mason & Hamlin's Cabinet Organs. From the soft breathing flute tones to the thundering bass of the pipe organ, all was equally free and sweet. And why is it other makers cannot produce instruments like these? Mason & Hamlin were the first to introduce the Cabinet Organ, and have gained such world-wide notoriety that it requires the work of two large factories to supply the demand for these valuable instruments.

DRY GOODS.—Ladies in want of any article in the Dry Goods line, would do well to call on KOHN & FISHEL, No. 91 Front street, (in the store formerly occupied by Well Bros.) KOHN & FISHEL are selling their Dry Goods off at extremely low rates to make room for a large and new invoice shortly to arrive.

Buchtel's Photograph Gallery is the only establishment in Oregon that is thoroughly prepared to do all the different styles of work in the art. Photographs from card to life size. The new cabinet cards, &c., &c. Small pictures enlarged (retouched in India ink—painted in water-colors or oil by Mrs. S. J. Rumsey. Pictures that are fading can be reproduced in this way. All negatives taken in this gallery will be carefully preserved, and additional copies had. I have now on hand a very large collection of negatives, the names of which are recorded alphabetically in a book for that purpose that can be seen in the reception room.

TRIP TO MT HOOD.—On Wednesday, July 29th Messrs W. B Powell, George H Himes, J S Newell, Ed W Cornell, and S G Boulton, started from this city on a hunting expedition into the Cascade mountains, near the base of Mt Hood. Being out two or three days without finding any game worth while the party concluded to try a trip to the summit of Mt Hood and accordingly they camped Thursday night at the snow line, and at a quarter before seven o'clock on Friday morning began the ascent. Not having left home with any intention of making such a trip, they were ill prepared for the ascent. Having nothing to cover their faces for protection of the eyes, Messrs Cornell and Boulton after traveling about five miles, abandoned the trip and returned to the camp below. The others proceeded, the night one or two who already suffering some from the glaring reflection of the sun's rays from the pure white snow. This glare is described as being intense. Where the traveling permitted it, they wore handkerchiefs over their faces but they were often under the necessity of uncovering them, in order to make their way over difficult places. From the ramp, the party were about eight hours in getting to the summit, being obliged frequently to sit down and recover breath. They felt no particular fatigue but found that when walking their breathing soon became short and difficult. They reached the summit at about 2:45 P M.; and remained but a short time. About three hundred feet below the summit they passed an old crater, situated on the southwest side, at the bottom of which is an immense fissure, from which came, at intervals, puffs of smoke, with strong sulphurous odor. From the depths of this, there came every few minutes a hissing or boiling sound as though of snow falling into hot coals or ashes. Below the summit they found several deposits of articles left in former years by various persons. Among other things, were two copies of the Christian Advocate, left there about a year ago by Rev Harvey Hines and J C. Moreland. They were in a perfect state of preservation and the names of the depositors, written in pencil, were as bright and fair as when written. They found, also, some 25 cent pieces, 10 cent pieces and a 2 cent piece, with the name of J Elliot cut on it. The various members of the party, both in succeeding and descending, met with several hair breadth 'escapes' and rather thrilling adventures, but arrived safely at the camp about half past five P M. Capt. Bowell's face was terribly burned and his eyes so much inflamed that he was compelled to keep them bandaged for two or three days. Mr. Himes was considerably sunburned, but escaped with slight punishment through the use of fir coal blacking, with which he thoroughly covered all the exposed parts of his face, neck and hands. All of the party were much burned by the sun, the skin peeling off as it blistered. On the return trip, they met Messrs. Ruhman and Thompson, of Salem, at the foot of Laurel Hill, on Saturday. They had started for the summit, and were furnished with every necessary article for an easy trip.

COMPLIMENTARY TO OUR GOVERNOR.—The Yreka Journal of the 24 inst. has the following notice of the arrival at Yreka, of Gov. Wood: "His Excellency, Geo. L. Woods, Governor of Oregon, arrived in town last Saturday, and was attended about seven or eight miles from town by Sheriff Crooks and County Collector Foulke, by authority of the County Central Committee, who took him from the stage into their carriage. The Governor has made many new acquaintances during his stay in town, and appears to be a gentleman of affable manner, clever disposition, and of intelligent ability. He was warmly pleased at Sisson, being shown some of the discoveries of gold on McBride's gulch near Hawkinsville, and visits our State again for the purpose of aiding the success of the Union cause, in which he feels a great interest, though really not in very good health to undertake the canvass. We cordially welcome him, and sincerely trust his popularity as an accomplished orator will add extensively to the cause of liberty and Union, as it did in his election at the last gubernatorial contest in our sister State.

The same paper thus speaks of the speeches of Gov. Woods and Hon. J. P. Jones at Ft. Jones: Last Wednesday evening the Union men of Fort Jones met in the Town Hall, to listen to those stanuch Union champions, Governor Woods and Gen. John P. Jones. The meeting was opened by a scathing rebuke to Democracy by Mr. Jones, who was loudly applauded throughout. Gov Woods followed with a masterly and eloquent argument on the policy and acts of the Union party, parts of which roused his audience to the highest pitch of enthusiasm We have not the space, receiving the dispatch at this late hour, to give anything like a synopsis of the speeches, but assure the people, if they wish to hear masterly and unanswerable arguments on the living issues of the day, don't fail to turn out and hear Gov. Woods and Lieut. Gov. Jones.

LOFFEL'S AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL.—We have, from Mr. Myers, a pamphlet of fifty-six pages, devoted to explaining and advertising Loffel's Double Turbine water wheel. It gives full and complete information in regard to its power, size, number of revolutions, quantity of water used, etc.; so that any millwright, with the instructions, can easily put in a wheel and adapt it to the peculiar circumstances of each case. It contains a table showing the horse power, the cubic feet of water used, and the revolutions per minute of any wheel from 6¾ inches to 56 inches in diameter under any head of water from 3 feet to 40 feet. There is another table giving the various sizes of the wheels manufactured, with the number of square inches of water vented, and the price for each sized wheel. The pamphlet also contains several hundred certificates from persons using the Double Turbine wheel, as to its efficiency, durability, cheapness, etc. Messrs. Loffel & Myers have printed several thousand copies which we understand are for gratuitous circulation. Persons, therefore, who are contemplating the use of water power, would do well to send for a copy. The Oregon Iron Works, as soon as their new shop can be got in readiness to run, will continue the manufacture of the wheels to order. Meantime Mr. Myers will order from the Eastern manufactory. A machine for boring cylinders, and to be used especially in the manufacture of these wheels, costing between $5,000 and $6,000, was received by last steamer. It weighs when together about ten tons, and is the only machine of the kind on this coast. It is capable of boring any cylinder from one inch to six feet in diameter.

A ROGUE AND SMUGGLER.—The Victoria Colonist of a few days since, has the following items:

One Yaquot Sweet, late captain of the sloop Alarm, was fitted out with $3,000 worth of goods by Mr. A. Frankel, of this city, some time ago, for a trading trip to the North. Sweet departed on his errand and had "big" talk with the Indians, realizing, investors for a part of his goods, $8,000 worth of valuable furs and skins, about a week ago the sloop touched at Nanaimo on the way down, when Sweet sold the remainder of the cargo and, pocketing the fare in a canoe, started for the American side with his booty. Mr. Frankel has gone in pursuit of the felon, and we sincerely hope he may succeed in effecting his arrest.

Two or three telegrams were received in this city on Monday, directing the arrest of this man, Sweet and others, who it was thought were en route up the Columbia river. They were, however, not caught. Persons who came over from Olympia this week, express the opinion that Sweet came up on the Okanagan Monday, and got off to San Francisco, by the Orifiamme.

ACCOMMODATION LINE.—Mr. J. C. Jamison is running a regular accommodation passenger and express line between Portland and Forest Grove via Hillsboro, which has been found this season, a very great convenience to the public at the terminal and along the route. He leaves Portland on Wednesdays and Saturdays at 7 o'clock A M., arriving at Forest Grove same day at 5 o'clock P. M Returning, leaves Forest Grove on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7 A. M., and arriving at 5 P M at Portland. Mr. Jamison makes the line what he calls it—an accommodation line—carrying passengers, express freight, treasure, etc. He intends to make it a permanent institution

FLOUR FOR BOISE BASIN.—Messrs. Saylor & Co., were yesterday preparing a shipment of Imperial Mills flour in response to an order from a dealer in Umatilla It was ordered for the purpose of being sent to Boise Basin where there is a limited demand for the best brands attainable The mills of Eastern Oregon Walla Walla, and Boise Basin are making a surplus of flour, but the quality is inferior to best brands, and thus while they are sending 2d quality flour down here, we are sending to them in return some of our extra brands.

The Mines of South Boise.

A correspondent of the Idaho Statesman writes (July 24th) respecting matters at South Boise:

I have just returned from a two weeks' trip to Rocky Bar and the Yuba districts. Rocky Bar is a desolate looking place About half the houses were broken down by the snow last winter, and not more than half of those now standing are occupied. This was once a lively place. Three years ago forty or fifty arastras were running, each grinding from a half to two tons of ore per day, which yielded from $40 to $100 per ton Probably the average yield was not less than $10 per day for the labor expended in mining and crushing the rock. This success attracted the attention of capitalists. The lodges were purchased and expensive quartz mills erected, not one of which has paid the running expenses, much less have any of them paid dividends to stock holders I need not narrate the causes of these failures, how incompetent and dishonest managers rook lessly squandered the money entrusted to their care; how every mining company had half a dozen or more broadcloth superintendents in the different departments of its business, each drawing a large salary and doing none of the work. Some of the best of these mills have never run at all. The stockholders' money and patience were exhausted before the mills were completed. Attachments and liens have kept the property in the clutches of the law. Only one mining and milling company in Rocky Bar has paid. That is the Idaho company. I visited their mill. It is the poorest in the place. There are twelve stamps—nothing more, no pans, settlers, amalgamators, nor any of the improved facilities for saving the precious metals. Their mine is no better than several others. How, then, do they succeed? I inquired for their book-keeper. Mr. Green, the superintendent, kept the books. The office was closed. Mr Green was not in a saloon, but at the mine. Thinks I repaired, and found Mr. Green running a wheel-barrow from the tunnel to the dump-pile. In the course of a short conversation he said: "We hire no hands. All that are employed are members of the company." There was the secret of their success. These men needed no lazy superintendent to watch them. They worked in company for a common interest. I wish their strong arms and willing hearts success, and they will achieve it. Their mill will start again in a few weeks with the best of gold and silver saving apparatus.

I passed over to Yuba district. The Yuba is a tributary of the middle fork of Boise river, flowing into it from the south. These streams are among lofty mountains, which are seamed with gold and silver bearing quartz. Many of these are undoubtedly rich, though they have not yet been tested by milling process. The Defrees or Greenback company have a very fine twelve stamp mill running, but they had not made a clean up. Their clean-up will not test the mines. They are crushing rock from the Atlantic ledge. This ledge is from sixteen to twenty-four feet wide, and of course has barren streaks in it. The rock should have been carefully assorted at the mouth of the mine; but instead, everything, for the full width of the mine and from the surface down, was thrown into the dump-pile together. This pile the mill is crushing. If it yields $12 per ton it will exceed the expectations of good judges. Two more mills of twenty stamps each are being erected, and several good arastras will be running in a few days. The quartz ledges of Yuba district are larger and more numerous than those of any other district on the continent, and I think they will prove to be very rich.

I have taken pains to inform myself of the richness and resources of the country. Laboring men with a capital of $500 or $1,000 each may go into that country in companies of from five to ten, put up machinery according to their means, and if they do their work themselves they can reasonably expect to realize ten dollars for every days' work. So, at least, figures your correspondent.

CAUTION.—See that the Unseen Spirits.

The shadows lay along Broadway,
'Twas near the twilight tide,
And slowly there a lady fair
Was walking in her pride.
Alone walked she, but slowlessly
Walked spirits by her side.

Peace charmed the street beneath her feet,
And honor charmed the air,
And all astir looked kind on her,
And called her good and fair.
For all God ever gave to her,
She kept with rare and chary care.

She kept with care her beauties rare
From lovers warm and true,
For her heart was cold to all but gold,
And the rich came not to woo.
But honored well are charms to sell,
If priests the selling do.

Now walking there was one more fair,
A slight girl, lily-pale,
And she had unseen company
To make the spirit quail
'Twixt want and scorn she walked forlorn,
And nothing could avail.

No mercy now can clear her brow,
For this world's peace to pray;
For as love's wild prayer dissolved in air,
Her woman's heart gave way.
But the sin forgiven by Christ in heaven,
By man is cursed always.

Value of the Sabbath to Health.

1. It gives that rest to the exhausted physical system it so much needs, winding up the run-down machinery, and securing it invigorated power, the loss of which rest, is so harmful to health.

2. The mental powers, also, relieved from the heavy pressure of six days' activity, enjoy refreshing repose, and thus is the body relieved from what would otherwise be a harmful and dangerous burden upon it.

3. Cleanliness and change of apparel, both vitally connected with health, will be the certain results of a duly honored Sabbath.

4. The well-kept Sabbath will give a peaceful conscience, so productive of that happy cheerfulness which scatters gloom, prevents despondency, and thus removes another source of ill-health.

5. The honored Sabbath powerfully aids in keeping in check those debasing passions so sure to harm the body and engender disease.

6. Sabbath influences are eminently suited to divert the mind from those cares and anxieties so connected with heavy weekly labors which so harass and worry men, and open the way for the successful assaults of disease.

7. The honored Sabbath, by a thousand precious influences, affects the whole moral character, producing all the Christian virtues, and securing that self possession, calmness of judgment, and inward substantial peace which are pre eminently favorable to length of days and the healthful operation of all the machinery both of body and of mind.

THE OLD VIRGINIA PRESS.—The Norfolk Journal gives the following anecdotes of some members of the local press in the old borough days of that city:

The Norfolk Herald in those days was edited by [illegible] an Irishman, who, being a popular character on the Democratic side, became I prominent member of the Common Council. A petition was got up to extend Cumberland to Main street, and was carried by its friends to O'Connor for his signature which he gave at once, saying that he wished all possible luck to its petitioners. The opponents of the scheme soon after presented a counter petition to him, which he as readily signed and when the two came before the Council, O'Connor was required by the worthy parties to explain his assistance, when coolly turning to the petitioners he said: "Ye ungrateful people! Did I not sign what ye asked of me? Then what right have ye to complain? Did I not wish ye both success? Upon where are your thanks? Ye are not a pair of gentlemen, and I withdraw my good wishes as I now please neither of you."

"But sir," [illegible] replied, "you signed our petition for the street [illegible] ours against it." "Faith, and so I did and I haven't I a perfect right to please both of ye? Does me that, ye ingrates?"

O'Connor was in fact to an eccentric citizen who lived on Cumberland street, and would not, or [illegible] not pay. The [illegible] citizen daily advertised his large rear [illegible] in the Herald, for several weeks, and when he [illegible] called on him to know his charges, he would fly into a passion and abuse him, saying I do not want to sell my property, but I've no other way of getting my money from O'Connor except by advertising in his paper.

There was a rival paper at that time, the Public Ledger, which was well edited by Cooper, who was on the high Federal party politics then ran high and there were frequent town meetings to approve or condemn the measures of the Democratic Government. At one of these meetings during the reading of resolutions, laudatory of Jefferson was offered. The Secretary read the proceedings which ran as usual: "At a [illegible] town and respectable meeting of the citizens, &c." after which Cooper rose and said: "Mr. President, sir, there is no doubt a numerous meeting; but, to say so looks as if we desired to make it so. I do not, and to assert what nobody ought to deny; and I move, sir, that the word 'numerous' be stricken out of the preamble." This seemed new to him, and the word was struck out. Cooper then said: "I move you further, sir, that the word 'very' [illegible] be struck out, for, although we see the [illegible] it does not become us to publish to the world that we believe." This seemed even more [illegible] and the meeting struck it out. "And now sir," said Cooper, "as this meeting has received that it is neither numerous nor [illegible] I move that we adjourn, in such an uproar of laughter that Cooper defeated the whole of the Democrats, who otherwise could have carried the resolutions by an almost unanimous vote.

CHECKERS IN PARLIAMENT.—There is one matter in relation to [illegible] that is seldom touched on by writers, and which I dare not touch too closely, to wit: the horrible depravity of the Pompeiians, as illustrated by the frescoes, mosaics, sculptures and [illegible] statues that are found. Hundreds of these [illegible] objects have been carried away to the museum at Naples, and put in a room which no woman is allowed to visit; but there are still houses in Pompeii that are kept locked, and others that have such sculptures over the doors on the outside that the guides may hurry past them when there are ladies in the party. Even in private houses there are scores of frescoes—magnificently executed, too—which one would dare to visit only in company with his nearest and dearest friends, if ladies, and in other houses pictures and statues than which none can imagine anything worse. I cannot understand why the writers on these matters have been so anxious to conceal the faults of the ancients. It is a fact that deserves to be generally known. Great God! what a picture of corruption in Imperial Rome is revealed to one who looks into Pompeii with anything like thoroughness. The very stone of the door posts tell a tale more damnable than ever was invented by modern thought. Sodom was clean and Gomorrah was pure, compared with Pompeii. Where was ever a people on earth, before or since Rome, of, that "advertised the ways that lead to hell" by sculptures placed in the open gaze of the street? "Out, damned spot!" cried the frail infant genius of modern civilization and Christianity, as it looked in upon Pompeii, and Vesuvius responded to the command, and sent his consuming fires to do the work.—From a late Letter.

MURDER AT LEESBURG.—By the arrival of gentlemen from the Basin we are placed in possession of facts concerning a horrible murder in the city of Leesburg on Tuesday afternoon. The parties there as they come to us are as follows: A. J. Johns and P. W. McManus, well known citizens got into a dispute about a settlement, which resulted in both parties drawing pistols, but the interference of friends put a stop to the affair. Soon after Mr. Johnson was passing down the sidewalk in front of McManus' saloon, when he was assaulted by McManus, receiving a blow on the head with a double barreled gun which felled him to the ground, and while lying insensible from the effects of the blow, McManus deliberately fired the contents of both barrels into his body, killing him instantly. Mr. Johnson was lately from Walla Walla, aged about 35 years, and was a much respected gentleman. He was the proprietor of a beer saloon in Leesburg, and owns a large saloon in Walla Walla. McManus escaped, although parties are out now in search of him. He was a member of the Montana Legislature last winter, and heretofore has borne a good reputation. Great excitement was created in Leesburg in consequence of this cold blooded murder, and strong talk was going the rounds. It was feared it would give rise to the formation of a vigilance committee. Later advices state that the shooting took place about eleven o'clock at night and there were no witnesses to the dark deed. A post mortem was being held yesterday, when the full particulars will be ascertained.—Salmon News.

THE LATEST.—Chicago's latest sensation, the Greendyke divorce case, is terminated. Mrs. Greendyke sued for a divorce on the ground of cruelty. The jury found the husband guilty; but before the decree was rendered the wife was caught in trangante delicto with George Warner. She excused herself, saying she was engaged to marry him after her divorce. The husband filed a cross bill and obtained a decree. An hour afterward she married Warner. She married Greendyke in a similar manner, just after her divorce from French.

Miscellaneous Items.

One hundred and one thousand two hundred fifty-one emigrants left Ireland in the year 1866, which was a less number by eighteen hundred and forty-five than emigrated in 1855. The tide from that country is steady, and it flows mainly into the United States.

One Colonel Schumaker first discovered coal in Pennsylvania, in 1811, but the people had no faith in the discovery, and Schumaker, after losing eight years' labor and a large fortune, subsequently became insane and died in the Lunatic Asylum in Philadelphia, after twenty-one years confinement as a madman.

The greatest book publishers in the world are said to be Mame & Co., of Tours, in France. Those gentlemen turn out 20,000 volumes in one day! of all sizes and prices; some costing but a few sous, others of rare value and large price. They carry on every department of work connected with book making on their own premises.

The Corsican journals give an account of a duel which lately took place in that country. Three brothers on one side against three others of a different family, met in a wood, armed with axes and poniards, and an indiscriminate melee took place. None of them were killed, but all were wounded, and some are maimed for life.

At the time of Washington's visit to Boston, Hancock, not Bowdoin, was Governor of Massachusetts. The tradition is, that for some time the Governor stood upon his official dignity, and refused to call first on the President, but finally yielded, and went wrapped up in flannels, with and apology that he had been prevented from calling sooner from an attack of the gout. It made a great talk at the time.

During the siege of Queretaro the women of the city carried food and drink to the soldiers in the trenches, and spent much of their time with them, at the peril of their lives. Many thus fell victims to their conjugal devotion. One was shot through the breast by a bullet, which likewise killed the infant strapped to her breast. A second had her head taken off by a round shot. A third was killed by a bullet in the plaza.

The editor of the Clark county (Wis.) Advocate, who recently notified his readers that he should publish no paper the following week, as he was going out of town on business, makes the subjoined announcement in his last issue: "Mrs. M. Geography, as a science, is now quite rounded and complete. There are almost no great geographical problems remaining to be solved on this planet. Africa has given up her mysteries. The prize riddle of the Nile has been answered. Chinese Tartary and Japan are no longer closed books to us. The Northwest passage has been found, and proves to be not worth the finding. The tops of the Alps are now the regular breakfasting place for adventurous English tourists.

Klapka, Kossuth and Georgey.

A letter from Pesth in the Paris Patrie, has the subjoined:

Klapka, the defender of Comorn, is at present here. The part taken by that General in the Hungarian war will not have been forgotten. He returns here without any feeling of jealousy or personal ambition, and avoids the curiosity of the people as much as Kossuth courts it. There is scarcely a shop window without a portrait of the ex Dictator. These are of three sorts—first, Kossuth as a student, the countenance bearing already a serious cast; the second as Dictator, with the cheeks hollow and the look fixed, seeming to say, "admire me"; and the third as an exile, with the upper portion of the head bald, the beard long, the eyes without fire, and the physiognomy appearing to seek to represent moral suffering.

"Do you sell many of these portraits?" I asked a printseller. "Very few," he replied; Kossuth now excites but little interest among us. He was always prouder than the most haughty magnate, and even abroad he turned his back on such of his countrymen as did not salute him with the title of Excellency. In fact, we have now a King, and the days of dictatorships are past." "And Georgey?" "Oh!" said the tradesman, "never mention his name; were the ocean to separate his house from the rest of Hungary, he could not be more isolated than he really is." Klapka, in speaking of him, truly said, "Georgey is a Spartan by education; a stoic, or rather a cynic, by temper and habits; a stranger to the ideal, and believing only in the reality; unpolished also he is, detesting forms, and abhorring the rhetoric and flourish of the revolutionary literature. For him the mysterious power of Kossuth was only an insupportable imposture." Of these three men—Kossuth, Georgey and Klapka—the last is the only one that may still emerge from his obscurity. The others are dead to Hungary.

AN AMERICAN "SPONY" BY DICKENS.—Chas. Dickens presided lately at the annual dinner of the Railway Benevolent Institution in London. From his speech we extract the following capitally told story:

Now, gentlemen, on this point of the case there is a story once told me by a friend of mine, which seems to my mind to have a certain application. My friend was an American son captain, and therefore it is quite unnecessary to say his story is quite true. [Laughter.] He was the captain and part owner of a large American merchant liner. On a certain voyage out, in a summer weather, he had for cabin passengers one beautiful young lady and ten more or less beautiful young gentlemen. Light winds or dead calms prevailing, the voyage was slow. They made half their distance when ten young gentlemen were madly in love with the beautiful young lady. They all proposed to her, and bloodshed among the rivals seemed imminent, pending the young lady's decision. [Laughter.] In this extremity the beautiful young lady confided in my friend, the captain, who gave her some very discreet advice. He said:

"If your affections are disengaged, take the one of the young gentlemen you like the best, and settle the question." [Laughter.]

To this the beautiful young lady made reply:

"I cannot do that, because I like them all equally well." [Laughter.]

My friend, who was a man of resource, hit upon this ingenious expedient. Said he:

"To-morrow morning when lunch is announced, do you plunge bodily overboard, head foremost. I will be alongside in a small boat to pick you up; and take the one of the ten who rushes to your rescue."

The beautiful young lady highly approved of this, and did accordingly. But after she plunged in, nine out of the ten more or less beautiful young gentlemen plunged in after her. The tenth shed tears [great laughter] and looked over the side of the vessel, but remained on deck. They were all picked up. When they mustered dripping on deck, and stood there in a limp row, the young lady asked the captain:

"What am I to do now? See what a state they are in? How can I possibly choose one of the nine when they are all equally wet?"

"Then," said my friend, with a sudden inspiration, "my dear, take the dry one." [Loud laughter.]

I am sorry to say she did, and that she lived happy ever after.

A bashful young man escorted an equally bashful young lady. As they approached the dwelling of the damsel, she said entreatingly, "Jehiel, don't tell anybody you beaued me home." "Sa-ay," said he emphatically, "don't you mind, I'm as much ashamed of it as you are."

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering all a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs.
